

Event Evaluation

What is an Event Evaluation?

An event evaluation - sometimes called the “smile quotient” – assesses participant satisfaction with:

1. The trainers,
2. Content of the event, and
3. Facilities and other support factors.

Frequency. An event evaluation is often done each day or weekly.

Format. Evaluation is often made as a survey or questionnaire.

Use. Evaluations provide quick feedback to identify opportunities to improve content, materials and implementation.

Concerns. In many cultures, participants may be hesitant to provide what they perceive as negative feedback. Thus, evaluation has to take such “bias” in to account and a relative comparison of factors may become the useful way to interpret results.

Description

An Event Evaluation (see example on following pages) typically includes:

Introductory Paragraph - A brief statement thanking the participants for their input and indicating that their honest feedback will help improve future workshops.

Event evaluations provide opportunity to improve event production and delivery

1. Overall Workshop:

1.1. Achievement of objectives.

Participants assess the extent to which workshop objectives were achieved. (“Achieved”, “Partially Achieved” or “Not Achieved”).

1.2. Strengths and weaknesses.

Participants note up to 3 strengths and 3 weaknesses of the event.

(Use: Assessing achievement of objectives improves meeting clarity as the organizers must be clear on their objectives and make sure the participants are informed. Identifying strengths and weaknesses provides opportunities to improve.)

2. Components. Participants assess each component (e.g., class or activity) with respect to content, usefulness and presentation.

(Use: Trainers can identify components that need to be strengthened, added or deleted.)

3. Support Factors. Participants assess factors such as accommodation, meals, transportation, stipends (if appropriate), and other organizational support.

(Use: These support factors are key as a good technical training might be under-appreciated due to poor accommodations or bad food, etc.)

Part 2: Components

During Weeks 1 and 2, you have received lectures, gone on tours, and have had more than 20 hours of hands-on computer training. In this section of the event evaluation we would like for you to rate the content, usefulness and presentation of the topics. When rating content, you should consider such factors as rigor of material (theory, soundness, methodology). For usefulness, rate the topic for its applicability /relevance to your everyday job tasks. For presentation, you should consider clearness, logical structure, good use of visuals, etc. For each of the following components of the workshop, please check the appropriate column and provide comments as appropriate. 5=excellent; 4=good; 3=average; 2=fair; 1=poor.

Topic	Content Rating 5,4,3,2,1	Usefulness Rating 5,4,3,2,1	Presentation Rating 5,4,3,2,1
1. Overview of the program-- Marcotte
2. Extension Systems in the U.S.: Hill
3. Identifying your extension message: Bell and Atallah etc.

5=excellent; 4=good; 3=average; 2=fair; 1=poor.

2.1 Are there elements of the program that should be expanded?

2.2 Are there elements of the program that should be deleted?

Part 3: Support Factors

Please assess the following factors of the program:

Factors	Rating 5,4,3,2,1	Comments
Transportation
Accommodation
Food
Translation
Materials
Classroom/workroom

5=excellent; 4=good; 3=average; 2=fair; 1=poor.
